

Michael Babyak Jr is no stranger to hard work and dedication. These are just a few of the qualities that make him such a strong Financial Advisor and leader in his field. Not only does he possess a tenure of experience that is rarely rivalled in the industry, but he also possesses a dedication to his customers that is very hard to find. His work ethic comes in part to his education. Michael graduated from Norwich University, the oldest private military university in the United States and one that prides itself in produced well-rounded and hardworking civil servants. He was able to enhance his core values while earning a degree in the field he loved. His values have driven him every step of the way. They have been cornerstones in building the thriving business he currently leads as well as offering his clients exceptional attention and dedication every step of their financial journey.

Learn More

Finance

Blog

LinkedIn

"We believe that it's more important than ever for our clients to receive quality, independent advice delivered by a proactive, client-focused team. Our experienced professionals specialize in comprehensive areas of expertise- including wealth management, financial and and estate planning, risk management, and retirement consulting."

Michael Babyak Financial Advisor

Michael Babyak grew up in a family of dedicated financial professionals. He learned early on that hard work, discipline and taking care of others needed to be a large part of everything he did. Michael started at Precision Financial Services as an LPL Registered Representative, focusing on securities. He soon showed that he could handle much more responsibility. Michael quickly began to take on additional roles within the company, covering anything from operational and personnel management to compliance and trading management. Michael held this position for over 17 years and was able to not only enhance the firm's existing services but also was instrumental in the development of new ones.

Michael Babyak's father passed the business along to him to lead in 2006. As the President of Precision Financial Services, Michael is able to lead his team of financial professionals in the core values that he has established throughout his life. These professionals range from research analysts, insurance professionals, and retirement plan specialists, to wealth advisors, trust coordinators, and pension counsel. Michael has been instrumental in upholding the positive reputation of Precision Financial Services and leading his team down a continual path of excellence, in their work and for their clients.

In addition to work, Michael Babyak Jr's dedication and core values translate to his personal life. These values and this commitment to those around him, make him a respected leader in his community. He has served as a member of many boards such as Randolph Township Board of Adjustment, Board of the North West Jersey Association of Life Underwriters. Currently, he serves as a Class Agent for Norwich University '92 and is a member of the Norwich University Board of Fellows. Michael also shows his support for his community through many philanthropic endeavours. In his spare time, Michael Babyak demonstrates his values of dedication and commitment with his family as well by spending plenty of quality time with his wife, Phyllis, and their two children.