

Wealth Advisor and Strategist

Hello. I am Brent Markley, Founding Partner and Wealth Advisor at Stratos Wealth Partners and Advantage Wealth Partners. Our goal is to serve you with excellence. We do that by creating a solid foundation of trust built on my core values:

- Listening to Connect
- Inspiring Confidence
- Continuous Oversight
- Continuous Improvement

All this may sound like just words. At Stratos we have demonstrated success time and time again, and believe in long-term relationships that are built upon trust and open communications.

I have built my business personally on communicating what you need to know, not just what you would like to hear. I also firmly believe that in order to provide you with professional guidance, it starts with a full understanding of your desires and goals. From there we build a fully integrated plan together.

My story began some 30 years ago, and has taken some turns, both positive and negative over the years with the volatility of the market. I have built my foundation on my core values, and have hired and trained a staff that is fully engaged and prepared to help me achieve my goals. I am confident that once you spend time with the Stratos team, you will also have confidence in your financial future.

I look forward to working with you!
