Legacy Financial Network

Legacy Financial Network was established on the belief that the client should come first and everything else will fall in line. They have carried on this belief through education, not only of their advisors, agents and staff, but also their clients.

The company currently has 15 offices nationally. Their growth has been fueled by a narrow focus on only those in and near retirement as well as education individuals so they truly understand their retirement, regardless of their age. This focus has allowed Legacy to lower and control costs. These savings are passed on to the people they serve.
