Ross Douglas

LPL Financial Advisor

After earning a degree in finance from Colorado State University and spending seven years as a commercial airline pilot, Ross began his financial advising career with a firm in downtown Denver. The city was a great place to start his career, but through all the years spent amongst the skyscrapers downtown, he had a very clear dream: to raise his family and be an involved financial advisor in a small mountain town. Seeking a passionate community, closeness to nature and outdoor recreation, he, his wife Sarah, and their two little girls moved to Durango, Colorado. Ross became an independent advisor with LPL Financial with an office on Main Avenue and established Grenadier Financial, LLC, named after his favorite local mountain range.

Ross takes great pride in going beyond traditional investment management. His approach emphasizes solid planning. He helps clients get organized so they always have a clear understanding of where they are financially and what they need to do to get where they want to go. See how solid planning can work for you.

OUR CLIENTS

Our clients have something in common. They want options. Because options seek to provide freedom. Of course, freedom means different things to all of us. Maybe for you it's about being able to take a pay cut for more rewarding work or a summer sabbatical to roam Europe in style. Maybe freedom means you can promise the kids a debt-free start out of college. It starts with great hopes and dreams like those, but too often it ends there. The way to pursue the freedom and the options you want? Solid planning and preparation. And that's another thing Grenadier Financial clients have in common. Start now, with us.
