

Welcome to Gradient!

Gradient Analytics, LLC ("Gradient") is a leading independent equity research firm with expertise in financial analysis, forensic accounting, and executive behavior. Since 1996, Gradient has delivered Gradient Analytics<sup>SM</sup> brand services, which are best-in-class research intelligence, providing a comprehensive perspective on generating alpha and managing risk.

We publish academically rigorous, unbiased, objective insights into the financial performance and equity valuation of more than 15,000 liquid publicly traded companies globally. Gradient analysts identify key indicators of underperformance and outperformance, research that is relied upon by mutual fund managers, hedge fund managers, and other professional money managers.

Gradient has been a Sabrient Systems company since August 2011. We are not affiliated with any investment bank, underwriter, brokerage or trading firm, or fund. We do not manage money for others nor perform contract research for hire.
