About

Bain Capital Tech Opportunities aims to help growing technology companies reach their full potential. We focus on companies in large, growing end markets with innovative or disruptive technology where we believe we can support transformational growth.

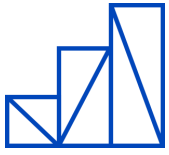

Our dedicated, tenured team has deep experience supporting growing technology businesses—bringing together differentiated backgrounds in private and public equity investing as well as technology operating roles. We invest behind fundamental long-term tailwinds as technology penetrates across industries, creating a large and growing number of investment opportunities. Our team focuses on five priority sub-verticals: Application Software, Infrastructure & Security, Fintech & Payments, Healthcare IT, Internet & Digital Media.

Strategy

Mid-market control buyouts

Well-positioned companies with strong products and/or market positions and potential for operational improvement or strategic repositioning

Late-stage growth capital

Minority investments in high-growth companies with disruptive products or business models that have proven traction in large markets

Cross-platform investments

Opportunities in priority sub-verticals where we believe we can leverage capabilities to collaborate with Bain Capital affiliates

Tactical opportunities

Situations where we believe Bain Capital's global network, value creation capabilities, and creative structuring create opportunities for attractive risk-adjusted returns
