Leadership

CO-FOUNDER AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

CHRISTOPH EIBL

In 2005 at the age of 25 and having spent five years in investment banking Chris decided to set-up Tiberius with the vision of creating a global commodity powerhouse. Starting in the commodity fund management space Tiberius quickly grew to become a leading asset manager in the long-only commodities space. Diversifying the business into merchant metal trading and mining was concluded with the launch of a commodity technology business which today comprises a metal backed digital currency and a data Agritech business. Chris holds an Executive MBA from Cambridge University and a MA from King's College, London in military history.

NON-EXECUTIVE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

MICHAEL HUTCHINSON

Mike has been a Board Member of the London Metal Exchange and CEO of Sempra Metals, formerly Metallgesellschaft and now the commodities part of JP Morgan. Mike is one of the most reputable persons involved in the trade of base metals. He was formerly the Non-Executive Chairman of RBS Sempra Metals, Deputy Chairman of JP Morgan Metals, Chairman of Wogen plc and a Director of LME Holdings Limited and the London Metal Exchange Limited. Further he was a Director at Enron and the warehousing company Henry Bath & Son Ltd.
