Gold and mining stocks just closed at a new yearly high. Silver is not even close to reaching such levels, and gold is already back below where it was trading 24 hours ago. Can these breakouts be trusted? Do they have a lasting power? To answer that, we better remember something important first. This changes the overall picture regarding gold and mining stocks entirely.

NEED COACHING? I just had 2 spots open up this summer for private coaching. This is a full program, teaching the skills needed for fulltime trading (stocks, ETF's, E-mini's, options). We work together Friday and Saturday, then I watch you trade on Monday. I have 1 double-weekend available for the advanced course. If interested, email me: drstoxx@drstoxxcom (/drstoxxcom), and tell me a bit about your trading and goals.
