Planning & Portfolio

Our objective is to provide a highly personalized, tailored approach supporting your goals and evolving needs. Your existing portfolio is analyzed to provide an understanding of your finances. We help people at all stages of their journey, particularly those in or near retirement. There is planning to be done at all stages of the journey, though the focus and priorities may change along the way. For high net worth families, financial planning is more than just choosing the right investments at the right time. It also means wealth preservation and management that extends beyond your lifetime.

Complimentary Consultation

Whatever your needs are, it all begins with complimentary consultation where we can gather information, get to know you & assess your needs. A financial plan should identify your goals and objective while balancing both priorities of performance and risk management. Your interests are paramount. Once we go through the discovery process, we analyze the information and make recommendations of how we can help. Should you engage AMR, we have access to technology that allows for continuous portfolio monitoring, rebalancing & maintenance. We look at the totality of your planning concerns including retirement readiness, income planning, estate planning, insurance needs for risk management, tax and charitable planning.
