HIGH QUALITY BUSINESSES

Truly Selective

We believe that high quality businesses share common characteristics. They are powerful leaders in their industry. They have dominating competitive positions. These are just a few of the qualities we look for in the businesses we purchase. You can count on these to perform consistently for you no matter the current market conditions.

Most Firms are Not Selective

The majority of mutual funds, ETFs, and advisors hyper-diversify by purchasing hundreds of businesses. This investment style guarantees average results - purchasing a mix of weak and strong companies. We believe in concentrating on our best ideas.

¹ Past performance does not guarantee future results, and loss of principle may occur. SumZero offers a buy-side analyst performance rankings system. Their proprietary rankings algorithm examines the returns of individual investment recommendations made by thousands of fund analysts/PMs since 2008, and then identifies the individuals that have most consistently beat the market. SumZero rankings are published each month based on the performance of ideas. Rankings are calculated to highlight users with the highest risk-adjusted returns relative to the market. [Questions?
