Integrity. Balance. Independence.

Independent Financial Group, LLC is based on three core values shared by Independent Financial Group's executive team: integrity, balance and independence. Founders Scott Heising, Joe Miller, and David Fischer along with their home office team of employees are committed to providing excellent customer service while always keeping these values at the forefront of decisions as leaders.

From the top down, each employee shares in this understanding while providing efficient and friendly service to our advisors according to those beliefs. Independent Financial Group is committed to bringing true independence to the marketplace while staying true to the values the founders have set in place.

The IFG Mission.

At IFG, we will always believe you are a name, not a number. We aim to provide our representatives investment opportunity, guidance, and planning.
