

Comprehensive Financial and Investment Advisory Services

Urban Financial Advisory Corporation (UFAC), founded in 1990, is an independent financial planning and investment advisory firm located in Chicago, Illinois.

UFAC's clients are generally mid to high net worth individuals seeking financial planning and investment advice from an objective, unaffiliated service. The firm services clients located across the United States as well as several residing overseas.

UFAC offers its clients a comprehensive array of planning services including financial planning, tax planning and compliance services, and estate and trust planning and administration. The firm also provides its clients objective investment advisory services. UFAC does not sell insurance or annuities, nor does it receive any commission or load on any investment product. All services are rendered on an unbundled, fee-only basis to ensure objectivity and neutrality in delivery. This means the client pays only for planning and advisory services required. Financial planning services are not rendered for “free” in hopes the firm will be retained for investment advisory services. Further, investment advisory fees are priced to efficiently cover their costs of delivery and not to subsidize marketing efforts or planning services to others.
