MONTHLY MARKETS MEMO - JUNE 2019 Trade issues continued to drag on the market over the past month on the front against Mexico. In an effort to curb illegal immigration, President Trump threatened to place 5% tariffs on Mexico and to scale the tariffs up to 25% by October. This caught the market by surprise and added fuel to the equity market's decline with the escalation of trade tensions with China.

MARKET MINUTE - June 18, 2019 There has been a lot written on tariffs over the past few months as news continues to develop. On another trade front, President Trump threatened to impose 5% tariffs on Mexico. A deal was reached regarding immigration. Trade should remain in the news as President Trump and Chinese President Xi Jinping summit in Japan later this month.
