EMERGING MARKETS – OUR EDGE

The investment professionals at Gramercy have dedicated their careers to emerging markets. Our investment team has an extensive distressed credit core competency. Due to the hands-on nature of distressed investing, Gramercy has fostered local market relationships that are not easily replicated. For nearly three decades, our investment team has cultivated these deep-rooted, unique local relationships. We believe the combination of our pan-emerging markets expertise and local market relationships give Gramercy a distinct advantage in emerging markets.
