Overview

GCA is a partner with management teams who wish to invest in their companies by becoming part of the buying group.

Recapitalizations are also structured for business owners who desire immediate liquidity yet wish to participate in the growth of their business by maintaining operating control.

Investment candidates usually have revenues between $10 and $200 million and most are privately held businesses or subsidiaries and divisions of larger corporations. Investments are made in established businesses with demonstrated operating histories and quality management teams.
