The portfolio companies and funds identified and described herein may not represent all of the portfolio companies and funds purchased, sold or recommended for funds advised by Cross Creek. Not all acquisitions or IPOs are profitable; the positions can be acquired at a price that is greater or less than the price at which Cross Creek purchased its interest for client accounts. The information is being shown to reflect the firm's ability to select investments and not to reflect any positive investment experience. The reader should not assume that an investment in the portfolio companies and funds identified was or will be profitable. Company investments less than $500,000 are excluded from this list.
