Independent No vendor bias, nor conflict of interest Ten Capital Advisors is an independent hedge fund advisory company. We get compensated only by our clients and as such our interests are aligned with theirs; In fact we see them as our partners.

This allows us to recommend those managers that we truly believe are best in breed and are not limited by any platform offering.

HFA Model

Hedge Fund Advisory model evolved in order to better service families and fix all the problems that exist in the fund of funds model that are: transparency, customization vs pooling of assets, liquidity and alignment of interests.

Due Diligence²

Our trademarked Due Diligence Squared process was born out of years of investing experience in the industry. This process allows us to source talented emerging managers before they appear on other investors radars. We put an equal weight to our due diligence work both before an investment is made but as important also after it, realizing our work monitoring the managers never ends.

Decision

Point

We see ourselves as partners with our clients. We conduct routine investment committees with our clients to present to them new investment opportunities, update them on their current holdings and help them with any investment decision they may need.
