

Tillridge Global Agribusiness Partners

Tillridge is a private equity firm focused on partnering with experienced management teams across the agribusiness and food value chain through direct equity investments. The Tillridge team began investing in 2012 as part of NGP Energy Capital Management.

Our team is comprised of professionals who spent the predominance of their careers operating agribusiness and food companies as well as those who have spent their careers investing alongside management teams to pursue growth opportunities. Collectively, we draw on over 150 years of diverse experience operating and investing within the sector.

We are active within each of the sector's primary verticals including farm inputs, handling and storage, commodity processing, and value-added food, feed, and ingredient manufacturing.
