

Crosstimbers makes direct investments in scalable, entrepreneur-owned companies and other compelling private investment opportunities. We source proprietary deals from our network, structure them for mutual benefit, and actively manage their growth.

ABOUT

Crosstimbers was founded in 2016 by David Hollon and Trevor Brock, close friends for over sixteen years.

As stewards of relationships, David and Trevor believe that the most productive way to cultivate the resources they've been given is through mutually beneficial partnerships with others. They are proud of the trust the Crosstimbers team has established with executives, engineers, and entrepreneurs, as well as family offices, financial sponsors, and other service providers. They further believe that the strength of this network and the proprietary deal flow it provides gives Crosstimbers a competitive advantage over its peers.
