

Lavien Group is an investment management firm founded in 2012 and is based in New York. Our fund invests in a concentrated portfolio of companies that have a demonstrated record of long-term value creation, a culture of innovation and significant insider ownership. We apply private equity-like investment analysis to stock selection with the goal of earning over the long-term PE-like returns with less risk, greater liquidity, and in a shorter time frame for investors than with PE funds and their traditional fund life lockup period.
