CULTURE

One Team

Each of us is an integral part of the work family. We share the same value and mission. And we share success. We care about the well-being of each other and drive each other to constantly learn and continuously grow, both professionally and personally. In the systematic investment world only concerted teamwork can win.

Open-minded

We are optimistic. We believe that there are immense opportunities in the global markets, and we have been only touching a small part. We encourage people to be entrepreneurial and take initiatives to explore uncharted territories. Instead of “impossible” we like to say “how to make it work?”.

Efficient

We leverage disciplined processes, optimized automation, and cutting-edge technologies to achieve efficiency. In the meanwhile, we frequently examine our information flow and decision making processes to ensure that the efficiency is maximized. We believe operational efficiency boosts morale, reduces errors, and increases profitability.

Humble

Staying humble is our first line of defense in risk management. We are in awe of the ever changing and challenging nature of the markets. We know the limitations of our systems and our judgements. Hence we value and promote diverse opinions, we openly admit mistakes and learn from them, and we will never cease to improve and innovate. Excellence, not ego, is our ultimate quest.

Work-life harmony

In our world, work and life are not opposing; instead, they complement each other and can feed into each other in a synergetic way (This is why we favor “harmony” over “balance”). Hard work definitely matters, but not at the cost of one’s well-being. Moreover, each individual is results driven and autonomous.
