

Financial Transparency

Why Financial Transparency?

Right now, do you know why each investment is in your current portfolio? Do you know how it performed compared to the other similar options that you could have had? We believe that advisors should be able to answer this question for you, and here at Financial Transparency, we are working to do just that.

Who We Work With

Financial Transparency works with clients and financial advisors around the country, in various states. We typically custodialize assets with E*Trade Advisor Services. They provide our firm with back office support through a dedicated team to better serve our clients and advisors. We also work with one of the largest national custodians, Charles Schwab Corporation.
