The Total Return approach used in our Global Equity Strategies emphasises the importance of dividend yield and dividend growth as well as price increases. We employ a diversified approach, investing in all industries, all regions and all capitalisations. This strategy has consistently outperformed the MSCI World Index since its 2003 launch, with less risk and volatility.

We expect the key investment drivers over the next 20 years to include the world's changing demographic profile, scarce natural resources, and sustained pressure for lower carbon economies. Since 2000 we have been pioneering Natural Resource Strategies and were one of the first investment firms globally to launch separate Water and Energy Solutions Funds, a product line-up that now includes Global Resource Solutions.

We are pleased to be a signatory of the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investment (UNPRI) and be a part of the network of investors who support and promote the long term benefits of sustainable investment within the context of their individual investment processes and fiduciaries duties.Click here for further information.
