

Bridging the gap into all your tomorrows and your forever

Professional Financial Strategies pioneered what was once a new idea – a vision to guide professionals, executives and private business owners — and the families they leave behind — in making informed retirement decisions to preserve, protect and pass on wealth.

Our professionals help clients take control of their financial futures, manage life’s uncertainties, gain peace of mind, find financial freedom, and make an impact to finish strong.

Paul Byron Hill’s Rochester-based firm was birthed out of a family disaster. From that crisis came a desire to help people prepare for life’s uncertainties. Out of working in a broken financial services industry system was born an independent registered investment advisory firm, without conflicts of commissions — focused first and foremost on the client.
