Wesley C. Bangs - CRPC® CDFA® Financial Advisor

As a Financial Advisor with Hilltop Securities Independent Network Inc., I have developed & refined a process that puts all the pieces of the financial puzzle together for my clients. Being a Certified Divorce Financial Analysis® the financial ramifications of a divorce can be devastating. But, with the proper planning and expert help from professionals specializing in financially equitable divorce settlements, you can increase your chance of arriving at a settlement that fully addresses your long-term financial needs -- and your spouses too. What's missing in most divorce processes is financial expertise. A Certified Divorce Financial Analysis (CDFA®) can forecast the long-term affects of the settlement. CDFA's® are trained to advocate for men and women. The CDFA® simply interprets the numbers and helps the lawyer build a strong case that's in the client's best interest.

As a Financial Advisor with Hilltop Securities Independent Network Inc., I can offer you a wide range of services, from helping you and your professional team through a divorce, to selecting individual investments from a custom developed retirement plan. With access to a broad array of resources, I can help you make informed investment decisions based on your specific needs.

Many people think that investment planning is a once-and-done event that starts with the numbers and ends with investments and pie charts. But that's not what true investment planning is about.

I define true investment planning as a comprehensive, ongoing approach to managing all areas of your financial life that takes into consideration your income, expenses, investments, debt; your short-term and long-term goals such as paying for college or retiring comfortably; your taxes, and financial risks such as divorce, disability and death; and, finally, leaving a legacy.

How does investment planning make a difference?

Having a written investment plan can help you be more confident and prepared for your future, whether you're nearing retirement or just starting to save.
