Contact Bill Shepherd

Working With Your Regional Vice President

As your first point of contact at Fisher Investments, your Regional Vice President will hold an in-person meeting to discuss your needs and desires for retirement. With a thorough understanding of your situation, your Regional Vice President will share how Fisher Investments can build an investment strategy tailored to meet your retirement goals.

If you decide Fisher Investments is a good fit for you, your Regional Vice President will guide you through the process of becoming a client. He will offer resources Fisher makes available to clients like you, including live seminars and quarterly reports. He will also introduce you to your Investment Counselor, who will be your dedicated contact on your journey as a Fisher Investments client.
