As of March 1, 2019 Questar Capital Corporation and Questar Asset Management, Inc. have ceased all business operations, and Woodbury Financial Services, Inc. became the affiliation partner for Questar registered representatives. We thank our registered representatives and their clients for their business over the years. If you are a former Questar registered representative or client, you can learn more about Woodbury Financial Services, Inc. by visiting Woodbury Financial's website (<https://www.woodburyfinancial.com/>).

For any general Questar inquiries, please contact compliance@us.questarcapital.com (<mailto:compliance@us.questarcapital.com>).

In 2018, Questar Asset Management ("Questar") participated in the Securities and Exchange Commission's ("SEC") Share Class Selection Disclosure Initiative ("SCSD Initiative"), a self-reporting initiative launched by the SEC's Division of Enforcement. Under this initiative, Questar self-reported violations of the federal securities laws relating to certain mutual fund share-class-selection issues and agreed to return money owed to affected clients. Clients who were determined to be owed $10 or more are being notified and will be issued payments. The SEC provided a de minimis exception for clients owed less than $10, and such clients will not receive a refund from Questar. If you were a Questar client and have any questions about this initiative, you may submit inquiries via e-mail to compliance@us.questarcapital.com (<mailto:compliance@us.questarcapital.com>).
