

EMPOWER WOMEN

I can do this, with a little help, I can do this!

Empower Women 2018 - Kristine Porcaro Update

Empower Women was created to offer a space for women to come together and feel supported by one another in a safe, judgment-free environment. When we share our experiences and expertise we are able to learn from each other. Our mission is to empower women and girls from all walks of life to speak up, ask questions, and learn.

Stats say 45% of millionaires are women by 2030 and 2/3 of wealth will be with women! We want to empower you and for the record, money isn't power, knowledge is power. Whether you control the family finances or you're just getting involved, whether you have lots of experience or you're just getting to know money, we are here to support you in a way that is comfortable for you.

We have seen firsthand the impact that our discussions around life and money have had on women and with the launch of Empower Women, we will be able to reach and help so many more.

The only rules are there are no stupid questions and you have to be a woman. Sorry guys!
