THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

Achieving Profitable Growth

Discipline in financial management is a defining characteristic of a successful independent advisory business. Because it is easy to ignore in the face of the many demands on the financial advisor/owner, it is also absent in most firms and one of the contributing factors to the large number of small practices that dominate the industry. The stakes are high when it comes to a firm's success in careful management of its finances; practices that generate a comfortable profit margin can sustain reinvestment in support of growth at a rate their peers envy and ultimately command a higher multiple in a liquidity event.

Every day you ask your clients to examine all aspects of their lives so that you can help them plan for their futures and set in place structures and solutions for every possible contingency. You likely tell them the more they plan and the more what-ifs they consider, the better off they will be.
